MARKETS ARE STEADY AND PRICES CONTINUE FIRM.

Not So Much Canning as in Former Years and the Demand for Fruit

In the grocery line there is a good dewhile the demand is largely of the hand-tomouth character, in the aggregate there is a large volume. Not much complaint is heard in regard to collections, which may be attributed largely to the fact that credit lines are being drawn more closely than in former years. Shippers, while moving more freely, are not going out as briskly as was expected. The masses are not canning and preserving fruits as much as usual and are not taking as much sugar. This week some improvement in trade in that line is shown. The tea and coffee trade is reported excellent and rice is in good request and the market strong. Canned meats, salmon and city kip, 60@80c; French kip, 90c@$1.20; city calf-skin, 90c@$1; French calfskin, $1.20@1.85. sardines are moving fairly well and at steady prices. There are so many picnics and like gatherings that utilize these articles for lunch. Hog products are moving quite freely and are increasing in demand, which has been stimulated by the come. $2.25 rates; from mill, $2.15 rates. Horseshoes, per keg. $4.50; horse nails, $4.05 per box. Barb wire, galvanized, $3; painted, $2.75. which has been stimulated by the comparatively low prices which are very much lower than they were a year ago. It is noticeable that orders are mostly small, indicating that buyers are not disposed to buy for future requirements to any extent, but in the aggregate there is a large business. Sugar-cured hams still hold the preference. Pure lard, notwithstanding it is so much cheaper, is not wanted to any extent for the present, but with the advent of cooler weather there will no doubt be an increase in trade. There is not much change n the hog situation. Receipts are still large, The market for strictly fine eggs continues strong in tone, and prices were again advanced yesterday, the supply seemingly being somewhat stinted. Buyers are willing to pay the price when they are sure of get-ting the right kind of stock, cold storage eggs not being in demand, and it is thought | dry salt, 150 less. that still higher prices may yet obtain for strictly fresh stock. Butter is moving fairly well, but is not in as active demand as usus! at this season, but with the increase in green corn the consumption is larger and retail dealers report trade more active. The output continues large, owing to the abundance of pasturage. There is a fair business in poultry, which will likely increase as the cold weather sets in. The flour market ives evidence of a good deal of strength. comestic flour demand is not as large as last month. A belief prevails that both theat and flour have been run up to higher figures than conditions justify, but there is a possibility that exporters have something

ONSLAUGHT BY THIS ELEMENT MAKE STOCKS CLOSE WEAK.

Belief that a Large Bear Party Has Been Organized to Contest the Move for an Advance.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.-The reactionary forces developed in yesterda s late stock market became preponderant in to-day's market and caused a sharp backset in prices. It was evident that the underlying cause of the reaction was that the rebound had been too fast and had gone too far. So far as could be perceived, the outside causes which were advanced to account for the decline were the effect rather than the cause of it. The dominant influences on prices were in the market itself. Yesterday's heavy profit-taking left the market in a weaker technical position. The concerted selling all through the list caused the belief that a large bear party had been organized among the professional traders to contest, the advance. In some quarters it was suspected that the choice of wellrecognized bear operators to conduct the selling was a ruse to cover profit-taking sales of those long of stocks, as the appearance of bear selling is the most likely to invite support of stocks by their market managers. The kind of support and protection for prices which have been in evidence since the trend definitely turned upward was not seen to-day and the fall in prices was uncontested. The speculative public at large was left to conjecture whether the powerful capitalists whose leadership they have supposed they were following had sold out their stocks and retired from the market or whether they had become dissatisfied with the rapidity of the advance and the character of their following and had determined to countenance a reaction for the purpose of shaking off a weak and undesirable following of weak traders. The reaction did, in fact, uncover large numbers of stop loss orders and wiped out narrow margins of smaller speculators who have been attracted by the rapid rebound.

scale, evidently in the nature of profittaking. That there were large additions the day's selling is a fair conjecture. As for the news development, an important place must be given to the ques-'n raised whether the rejection of the inama canal treaty by the Colombian senate is to be regarded as final. Yesterday's news of the rejection was made much of by the bulls as relieving the exchange market of the need for supplying means for remittance on the canal payment and leaving the Treasury Department free to use measures of relief for the money market. Buyers on this factor were naturally disappointed by to-day's revised view of the canal treaty outlook. Much attention was devoted to a circumstantial report that the legislative leaders who are looked to for financial legislation have been unable to agree and that any currency re-form measure at the coming extra session or regular session of Congress is im-

The selling was much concentrated, a single commission house disposing of many thousand shares during the day. The personality of the firm and its past employment by one of the great financial groups caused considerable significance to be attached to this selling. The further reduction in prices of Southern pig iron had its greatest effect on Tennessee Coal, but the iron and steel stocks all shared in the day's weakness. The concentrated selling referred to largely converged on Amalgamated Copper, and Rock Island was a leader in the reaction. The low temperatures in the corn belt and the necessity of early warm weather to insure the crop from frost were considerably dwelt upon. There was a considerable covering movement at the be-ginning of the last hour, but the bears made a fresh onslaught and forced a weak closing at the lowest of the day. Declines in the active list ran from one to four

Some early strength in the bond market gave way to heaviness in sympathy with stocks. Total sales, at par value, were $1,952,000. United States bonds were un-tion between all buyers for the good light and the trading was fairly active at appare a shade stronger prices than yesterday, but s were rather irregular and there were very few dealers that would admit that there was any quotable advance in prices. The demand for medium to heavy grades was not urgent, and no doubt it was the intention of buyers to fill their orders for this class at lower prices. Salesmen were not inclined to make any reduction, the trading was a trifle sluggish. Finally the supply was changing hands with some sales showing steady and others lower, and it was generally agreed that the average in prices was hardly as satisfactory as yesterday. After buy-ing 1,500 hogs Kingan & Co. withdrew from the market, and with several loads unsold the situstion was not very favorable. Later in the day shippers received additional orders, and closing transactions were reported firm compared with the opening. The extreme range in prices was from $5.50 to $5.95, and the bulk of the supply sold at $5,50@5.90. Quotations:

There was very little or no perceptible change in the quality compared with that represented the past few days, and the average continues satisfactory to buyers. The market opened with all buyers in the field, and with reasonably active competition between butchers and shippers the offerings from the reart changed hands promptly and a satisfactory clearance of all kinds was made in good ser son. About the usual proportion of good lambs sold at $5.50, quite a number were reported ref. $5.25@5.35, and other sales ranged from $4 to $5.

The best yearling sheep sold at $3.75, others at $3.25@5.50 and the ten price for old sheep was $3.25@3.50, and the top price for old sheep was practically $3.25, with other sales at $2.35@3. Most of the bucks sold at $2.50. Quotations: Good to choice lambs...

Common to medium lambs... Common to best yearlings... Good to choice sheep ... Fair to medium sheep. Culls and common sheep. tockers and feeding sheep. Horses-Fully 150 head of horses arrived for the closing auction sale this week, against 175 the same time last week and an equal number the corresponding time a year ago. A few of nearly all kinds were represented, but there was quite a scarcity of choice stock and some complaint among buyers as to the quality in general. There was a very fair crowd of horsemen attending the sale, but there were not many important orders, and this, together with the poor quality, was responsible for only a fairly active market at lower prices. Most sales represented a decline of $5@10 per head compared with a week ago, when quality was considered, but some of the sales appear to be right around $15 lower. There is still considerable complaint from shippers on account of the high prices in the country, and they declare they will have to suspend business unless they are accorded medium to good chunks and heavy borses sold usually at $125@160, and smaller and less desirable workers from $75 to $115. There were not many light harness horses in the offerings, and no quotable change was reported in the market.

NERVOUS WHEAT MARKET WAR NEWS

THE MARKET RALLIED.

with Corn Higher at 52e-Provision Market.

CHICAGO, Aug. 19.-Wheat experienced a nervous session to-day and after a big decline on heavy liquidation the market rallied and closed at about the top figure,

September being up %@1/c. September corn was a shade higher, oats were up 1/2c, but a disposition early in the day to buy back some of the wheat they had sold out the past few days and were encouraged in this by the action of the cash houses, which bought freely of the September delivery.

This demand resulted in a better tone during the first half hour, when September sold up to 81%c. but later in the day reports of good weather in the Northwest together with a better yield than had been expected caused heavy liquidation and in the price of the cash commodity at Minneapolis, heavy receipts at all primary ports and light clearances added to the weakness and started a stampede to sell by local longs, which resulted in September declining to 79%c. Covering by shorts during the last half hour caused a sharp rally and the close was near the top, with September %61/2c higher at 81/4c. December closed at a gain of %c at 82/4c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 262,- 200 bushels. Primary receipts were 1,209,-

200 against 1,090,400 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis and Duluth reported receipts of 220 fars, which, with local receipts of 76 cars-12 of contract grade-made total receipts for the three points of 296 cars, against 221 cars last week and 495 cars a

There was some covering in corn early in the session on the firmness following became firmer. Later there was consider-sharply, but rallied again toward the close on the upturn in wheat. Trading on the whole was rather quiet and largely local.

The weekly government report was a late bull factor. After selling between 50% and 51%c, September closed a shade higher at 5114c; December closed at 34@74c higher at 52c. Local receipts were 161 cars, with 21

Oats were independent throughout the entire day. The principal influence was the heavy buying of May by a prominent commission house, which caused an advance in all options and the better prices were well maintained. September closed 4c higher at 34%c, after ranging between 33%c and 34%c. December was up 1/20%c at 36%c.

Provisions were without support and con tinued selling by longs forced prices to a lower level. Trading was dull the entire day. The close was weak with September pork down 15c at $12.52½. September lard was off 7½c at 10c at $7.50, while ribs were LOUISVILLE, Aug. 19.—Hens, 10c per in; spring chickens, 10c per ib. Dry Goods.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—The factor of curtail-ment is beginning to be more of an influence in the dry goods market, both on buyers and on the attitude of manufacturers towards further business. Buyers contend they will be obliged to drop certain lines if compelled to pay present prices, but in many cases are not allowing lines to lapse. The fear of overstepping the bounds of prudence is also restricting purchases.
